

CASE STUDY

UNDER THE HOOD AUTOMOTIVE CONNECTOR

- Application developed for an injection molding activity company.
- The goal of this element was the first testing of the products injected by this company.
- It was carried out with Soft Nylon and Ultra Nylon.
- The results shown that customer created an extrapolation based evaluation system.
- The collaboration between MyMat customer and the end-user created a protocol that saved time and costs to both companies.

